Southey's most famous work is undoubtedly his epic poem "Madoc" (1805), which tells the story of a Welsh prince who travels to the New World in search of adventure. The poem is notable for its sweeping scope, its rich cast of characters, and its detailed descriptions of the American landscape.

In addition to his epic poems, Southey also wrote a number of lyrical ballads and sonnets. His ballads are often characterized by their simplicity and their focus on everyday life, while his sonnets are more formal and reflective.

The Delphi Classics edition of the Complete Poetical Works of Robert Southey presents a comprehensive collection of the poet's works, including:

- Epic poems: "Madoc," "Thalaba the Destroyer," and "The Curse of Kehama"
- Lyrical ballads: "The Inchcape Rock," "The Battle of Blenheim," and "The Holly Tree"
- Sonnets: "To a Skylark," "To Mary Unwin," and "On the Death of Chatterton"

This volume also includes a critical by Professor Stephen Gill, which provides an overview of Southey's life and works. The text is fully searchable and annotated, and it includes a comprehensive index of first lines.

The Delphi Classics edition of the Complete Poetical Works of Robert Southey is an essential resource for anyone interested in the Romantic era or in the works of one of its most influential poets.
